ADDITIONAL DEFENSES

15. Plaintiff lacks probable cause for the institution of this forfeiture suit.

16. The searches of Claimants' property, home, premises and locations were unreasonable and in violation of the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, and the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. All of the evidence and property seized and the fruits thereof must be suppressed and/or released.

17. Plaintiff has waived or forfeited its rights by a delay in service of the Claimants. Though this case was filed on November 8, 2013, Claimant was not served until February 28, 2014. This delay is without explanation or without just cause. Plaintiff failed to exercise due diligence. The law requires Plaintiff to bring this action within 90 days of a claim received by the federal agency. Said claim was received on August 13, 2013, and thus this action had to be prosecuted on or before November 11, 2013. By failing to exercise due diligence in serving the Claimant, Plaintiff failed to prosecute this matter within the time required. Thus, the property should be released. Additionally, Claimant, Noble Ezukanma, M.D., P.A., was never sent notice of the seizure and was not served with process in this case.

Claimant and his spouse. Claimant and/or his spouse are innocent owners of the property.

Claimant's spouse has not been served or given proper notice of this lawsuit, or of the government's attempt to seize and/or forfeit the property.

22. Some or all of the subject property was earned by Claimant from other services, other than medicare reimbursements. Claimant is a physician who has a private practice which is separate and apart from, and unrelated to, the medicare claims which are the subject of this lawsuit. A large portion of the subject property was earned from the said private practice and was not earned from the treatment or billing of the medicare patients who are the subject of this lawsuit. Claimant earned the subject money from activities and professional services which are unrelated to the allegations in this lawsuit.

23. The forfeiture is constitutionally excessive in violation of the U.S. Constitution and the Eighth Amendment thereto.

24. The forfeiture amounts to an excessive fine in violation of the U.S. Constitution and the Eighth Amendment thereto.

25. The forfeiture is excessive under CAFRA, 18 USC sec. 983.

26. The subject property is not connected to the offense, or the alleged offense. Some or all of the subject property is not connected to, and/or was not derived from, the alleged wrongdoing or the alleged offense.

27. Some or all of the subject property is not directly traceable to the alleged wrongdoing or the alleged offense. Additionally, this lawsuit was not filed within one year of the offense as required by law. Some or all of the property was acquired and saved over a period of several years. This action was not brought within one (1) year of the date of the alleged offense. Thus, the property should be released.

28. The complaint fails to allege the facts with particularity as required by Rule E(2) and therefore is not sufficient to support the cause of action for forfeiture. Plaintiff required to allege a particularized complaint due the nature of forfeiture actions.

33. Claimants have filed a "claim" or claims in this case related to the subject property and said "claim" is incorporated herein by reference as if fully set forth herein.

34. Defendant Property $14,245.67 is owned by Noble Ezukanma, M.D., P.A. However, Plaintiff has failed to comply with all required procedures under CAFRA and other federal law and has failed to perform all conditions precedent to forfeiture of said defendant property.
